CONTENT CREATOR | LIVE EVENT | STORYTELLER

Most people document events.

I translate them into energy, emotion, something you can feel through a screen.

I work in the moments most people miss. The ones that happen fast, unplanned, and are gone just as quickly.

That's where the real story lives.

I chase those moments as they unfold, then turn them into fast, scroll-stopping content built for how people actually watch today.

Because by the time everyone else notices what just happened...

I've already captured it.
